TRADITIONAL MATCHMAKING MAKES A COME BACK IN 2014

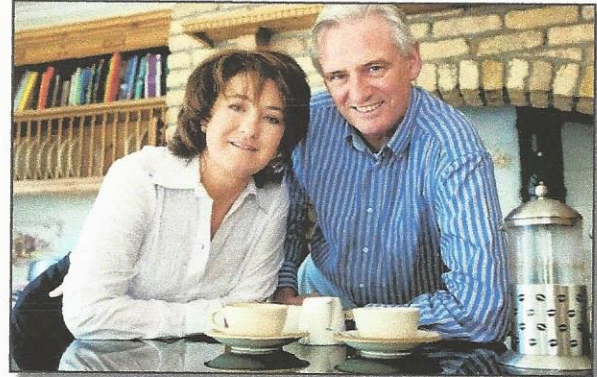

Introduction Agency at its busiest in years with Valentine's Day just around the corner.

The busiest time for dating agencies has always been before Valentine's Day according to Jennifer Haskins from Two's Company Introduction Agency. 2014 has already seen an increase in enquiries from Donegal people of all ages compared to previous years.

"People are thinking about the year ahead and many promise themselves that they will find someone new and we've been getting a lot of calls from Donegal already in 2014" according to Jennifer as people are looking towards the more traditional alternative to the online dating scene.

Launched in September 2009 by Jennifer Haskins and Bill Phelan, Twos Company is a totally private and confidential matchmaking agency. "We provide a personalised service that caters to our member's personal and confidential search," Jennifer says. "Our members demand this because they feel they are being well taken care of. We get to know our members' likes, dislikes, successes and heartbreaks; successful relationships are based on a foundation of morals, values and common interests."

"We find that people are coming back to the old ways of meeting long term partners - and typically that is through friends and through matchmaking agencies. The comments we are hearing from new members is that they don't have time to spend trawling through possible partners online or they have been stung in the past from online dating. Now they want to be personally introduced to someone more suitable".

Finding a potential partner with a similar lifestyle and relationship goal, makes meeting the right people, at the right time extremely difficult.

So how do you know if Twos Company matchmaking is for you?

- Do you work too hard and just don't have the energy to go out and meet someone new?
- Are you meeting plenty of other unattached but just not the right one for you?

- Are you tired of, or have just outgrown that bar/club scene?
- Are your friends mostly married?
- Would it make you uncomfortable to post your profile and picture with an on-line dating site?
- Have you had bad online dating experiences?

So, for those who are single or unattached, and are looking to meet that special someone this year, then get in touch with Bill or Jennifer on 014304017 or check out the website www.twoscompany.ie
